

From One Guy To Another Official Statement

Hello, world. We are Jackie Jennings and James Dwyer, Today we announce that we, A Big Dumb Thing show every first Wednesday of the month 11pm at the UCB Theater in Chelsea, are embarking on a journey that has never been undertaken by man or beast.

Just feet from us stands a tower of culinary achievement. It represents the best of food, the best of America -- the best of us. We speak of Guy Fieri's American Bar and Grille. Several months ago it was brought to our attention that a little over 1,000 miles away in the Cancun International Airport in Cancun, Mexico lies a second Guy's American Bar and Grille.

We decided on the spot that we were called to eat at both Guy's American Bar and Grilles in a 24 hour period. We begin that journey here and now. In a world divided by race, class, political party, religion, gender and PC versus Mac dude you're getting a Dell we hope that, in some small way, this act will bridge the divide and remind us that we are all citizens of Flavor Town.

Many have said we cannot accomplish this. Many have said we should not even try. To them we say: You hold no dominion over me anymore, mother. You are invited to follow our journey on all forms of social media.

Love Peace and Taco Grease.
